"REAL AMERICANISM"

Sermon Preached in the First Baptist Church on Sunday Evening Last by Rev. Dr. E. B. Jackson.

Herewith may be found a synopsis of the sermon delivered by the Rev. Dr. E. B. Jackson at the First Baptist church on Sunday evening last, at the memorial service held by Alexandria Council, Order of Fraternal Americans:

"Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's."—Matt. 22:21.

I believe that the violation of the principle contained in the text has brought upon the world an innumerable multitude of evils. The great American Republic was set up resting squarely upon the truth contained in the words of my text. There were many who felt that it was only an experiment which could never survive the traditions of old world government. So enemies of foreign birth, came and it was suspected that the hyphenated brand of citizenship was claiming the political rewards. It resolved itself into a contest for healthy Americanism, about the middle of the 19th century, and out of this contest was born the "Order of Fraternal Americans." Blood was shed in the defense of the American flag and thus this new order received its baptism.

I want you to see that the order has stood for the great principle of liberty all through the intervening years of our history, and, victory is not yet in sight for "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

1. The Order Stands for Civil Liberty.

The history of the union of church and state has caused the corruption of the church, and likewise the corruption of the State. Martin Luther, first of all since New Testament days, saw the state as a God-appointed, independent power. The people were to be, after the Revolution, the masters of their own destiny—the power of the King was gone forever. But there were ways by which the will of the people could be defeated, by designing men, and at least one famous political organization of our day in New York city, that flies the black flag, was then organized. The State thus becomes the tool of unscrupulous buccaneers. You lifted your voice against such un-Americanism at a critical time. The glorious Constitution was written by men who seemed raised up for that purpose—it was to be the street anchor of our liberties. But men who call themselves Americans have taken an iron-clad oath to obey some other authority than the state. Your order has never tried to exercise any privileges that were opposed to this most "wonderful instrument ever sprung from the brain of man." There is no liberty where law is not respected and you have always stood by the Great Courts of Our Country. We have anarchists in our country, in the I. W. W's, and they give aid to the enemy. The extraordinary draft laws recently enacted must have the backing of every true citizen. The great Democracy of Russia is struggling for life because respect for law there is so slight. You Stand for the Flag—Shiffler in Philadelphia, at the time of your beginnings, died by an alien shot with the flag in his hand. You will not permit the glorious emblem of our liberties to be desecrated. You will not permit it to be used as a trade mark. You want, not "dollar diplomacy," but the diplomacy of honor and national self-respect. You demand instead of an autocracy or oligarchy, under whatever guise, the right of the entire people to rule themselves.

2. The Order Stands for Intellectual Liberty.

The repression of individual thought never accomplished anything wholesome—We may cause a Galileo to recant by the thumbscrews, but the truth be discovered is the same. A man has been Given by God His Own Thinking Machine, and neither the state or the church has any right to tamper with it. But for the great thinkers like Washington, Jefferson, and Madison, there would have been no progress in government. You believe that every boy has a right to Asssitance in Trained Thinking. That is why you stand and have always stood for our Public School System. Unless we have an educated citizen-

THE NEW POSTAGE LAWS

The new postal laws, increasing the rate of postage on letters and all first class mail matter, except drop letters, will go into effect on Friday of this week. Nov. 2d, when the rate will be advanced to three cents per ounce or fraction thereof.

It was announced yesterday by the Postoffice Department at Washington that when the new three-cent law goes into effect on Friday next letters with insufficient postage will not be held up, but will be sent through to their destinations. When a letter reaches the postoffice of address the carrier will affix postage due stamps for the amount lacking, cancel them and collect the insufficient postage when delivering the letter.

The department has also announced that it will begin issuing 2-cent postal cards and 3-cent postage stamps and stamped envelopes as soon as a supply can be manufactured. While a large quantity of the new issue of 3-cent stamps has already been printed, the department announces it will not be possible to provide them in sufficient quantities to exchange stocks of 1-cent cards and 2-cent stamps, or 2-cent envelopes held by the public or by postmasters. It will therefore be necessary on and after November 2 for postmasters to continue the sale of 1 cent cards and 2 cent envelopes while their stocks last, and for the public to affix adhesive stamps to cards and envelopes to the amount of the increase of postage.

The attention of the public is particularly called to the fact that postal cards must have two cents in stamps on them, which were formerly sent for one cent.

TORN TO PIECES BY DOGS.

Miss McBride, Aged 80, Believed Attacked While Asleep.

Baltimore, Oct. 30.—Her body mutilated by dogs, Miss Eliza McBride, 80 years old, was found dead in the attic of an outhouse on the farm owned by her and her sister, Miss Hattie McBride, at Hereford, about 1 1-2 miles from the York road, near Mumford station, on the Northern Central Railroad Friday afternoon.

Her terrible death is believed to have come during Thursday night. Her sister told the coroner that she gave her some supper on that evening, and then left her apparently in good health. She heard nothing during the night, she said, but on the following morning, going to furnish Miss McBride with breakfast, she received no answer to her calls.

She made her way up the ladder, still calling, and when she was able to look into the attic saw several dogs playing with a heap of rags in one corner. A second glance revealed the mangled remains of her sister. She drove the dogs off and then obtained help from neighbors.

There is a pack of hounds on the place and it is btlieved they attacked Miss McBride while she slept.

Uncertain whether the woman was killed by the dogs or whether they had mangled her after finding that she was dead, the jury returned a verdict of death "either from natural causes or from an attack by dogs."

LEFT SHORTAGE.

Chicago Building Association's Deficit $182,000.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—The People's Building and Loan Association, oldest organization of its kind in Illinois, is in the hands of State Auditor Russell, who has appointed John S. Kowalski administrator. A shortage of $182,000 is involved.

A statement issued by the association yesterday says that an examination of the books of Harrison Kelley, a director and for 40 years secretary of the organization, disclosed that he kept two sets of books and that the assets, $122,000 are exceeded by liabilities of $304,000.

Kelley died by drowning two weeks ago and a coroner's jury brought in a verdict of accidental death.

GERMAN RAIDER TAKEN.

Seeadler's Commander and Five of Crew Caught by Fijian Constabulary.

A Pacific Port, Oct. 30.—Count von Luckner, commander of the German raider Seeadler, was captured September 21 off the Fiji Islands by Fijian Constabulary, according to word brought by a steamer arriving from a trans-Pacific port.

Five German members of the Seeadler's crew were taken with their commander, officers of the arriving vessel said. The Germans were in an armed launch and were pursued by the constables, who were aboard the steamer Amra. This report of the capture of the Germans confirms a message to this effect received some time ago from Australia.

Just what became of others of the Seeadler's crew is not known. One report was that they were at sea in a commandeered vessel. The Seeadler, wrecked on the Mohepa Islands in the South Pacific some months ago, sank three American vessels during her cruise in the Pacific. Previously, in the Atlantic, she put an end to 16 vessels of various types.

News of the destruction of the Seeadler was announced in Washington on October 4.

WARNING TO REVELERS.

Police Will be on the Alert Tomorrow Night to Check Those Who Would Commit Overt Acts.

Hallowe'n is generally regarded as an occasion, especially by the young, when all restraints should be forgotten and revelling, such as annoys others and causes damage to property should be permitted al libitum. The police force has been instructed not to interfere with innocent pleasure, but parties who may use missiles against front doors or windows, or engage in any other pastimes dangerous or annoying to others should not be surprised if they fall into the hands of the officers of the law and are locked up until next day, or made to leave collateral for their appearance in the Police Court. It is hoped all interested will take due notice and act accordingly.

Should the weather prove auspicious, the streets will, doubtless, be filled with masqueraders as is usual on Hallowe'n Night, and joy will be in the air. Many private parties will be given, and a good time is anticipated by those who will engage in the festivities.

Some, however, who appear in the streets on such occasions enjoy fun at the expense of others—that is by discomfitting those who are bent upon innocent pleasure. It is this class that the police will watch.

MACHINE BADLY DAMAGED.

Major Roy S. Brown Has Trouble on Return Flight From Washington.

Hampton, Va., Oct. 30.—Major Roy S. Brown, chief flying officer of the American forces at Langley Field, and Lieutenant Haslett, of the Royal Flying Squadron, who met with trouble on the return trip from a flight to Washington on Saturday, returned to Hampton yesterday morning, having made the trip from Baltimore down by steamer. The machine came to grief near Mila, Va., on the return trip, and the aviators had to make a landing. The aircraft was so badly damaged that the aviators were forced to abandon the machine.

Lieutenant-Colonel William Lay Patterson yesterday assumed command of Langley Field, as the successor of Major Brown, who will take up active flying, and will be sent to another field.

Lieutenant Adamti, the Italian flier, was unable to make a trip to Mineola yesterday in the Italian seaplane because of the heavy winds along the coast.

NEGROES FOR FRANCE.

Will Constitute One-Eleventh of U. S. Army in France.

When the full strength of America's new army is ranged on the battlefront of France, negro troops will make up approximately one-eleventh of the men under the Stars and Stripes.

Although negro soldiers from Africa or the West Indies have fought in many European struggles, and followed some of the greatest commanders, from Hannibal to Napoleon, the American contingent is by far the largest negro army ever mustered on European soil.

SUFFERING BELGIANS

Concert and Silver Offering in Elks' Home Next Thursday for Victims of German Cruelty.

The good people of Alexandria have planned a concert for Thursday night of this week at the Auditorium of Alexandria Lodge of Elks, at which a silver offering will be taken up for the relief of Belgians whose homes have been ruined and the blood of the nation spilled by ruthless Teutons who overran the little country at the beginning of the present war. The Twelfth Field Artillery Band at St. Asaph will furnish the music, and from present indications there will be a large turnout of Alexandrians to hear the music as well as to donate money for the unfortunate people who are suffering from no fault of their own.

Mayor Fisher has given the movement his hearty approval, and he earnestly requests all who can to forfeit other engagements, for that night, and take pleasure in having a part in this commendable work.

Hon. C. C. Carlin, Member of Congress from this district, has been invited to be present on the occasion and he will doubtless be on hand and speak in behalf of the suffering Belgians.

It is unnecessary for the Gazette to say anything in regard to this cause. Our readers know how the little kingdom was invaded by the German hordes on their way to France. The only offense of the Belgians was that they were patriotic and protested against the Kaiser using their country as a passageway, especially after his country had pledged itself by treaty to uphold Belgium's neutrality. When the Kaiser let it be known that he would pass through the little kingdom molens volens, the Belgians rushed to arms to defend their land. This was regarded by the Teutons as a sin unto death, and Belgium was soon bleeding, and is still bleeding.

The late Rev. Peter Kroes, who for many years was pastor of St. Mary's Church, in this city, was a Belgian. He witnessed the retreat of the French from Waterloo. He passed away many years ago, to the regret of Catholics and Protestants alike. While absent in person he may be present in spirit Thursday night, when interest is being shown by Alexandrians in the country of his birth.

Rev. Louis Smet, the present pastor of St. Mary's church, is also a native of Belgium. He is manifesting great interest in the coming entertainment, and, like Mayor Fisher, he also hopes all who can will attend.

FOUR PINNED UNDER AUTO.

Young Woman's Arm Broken—Man Run Down on Street.

Hagerstown, Md., Oct. 30.—An automobile containing a son and a daughter of Mr. Overholt, the Pennsylvania distiller, and the woman secretary and an attorney for the firm on the way to Baltimore, overturned on the state road 4 miles west of Hagerstown Saturday night, and the four occupants were pinned beneath the machine.

Miss Overholt's arm was broken and her hand injured. Dr. Daniel A. Watkins attended her. Others of the party were bruised.

Irvin Middlekauff son of Daniel Middlekauff, was struck by an automobile driven by William Heyser on the street here Saturday night and taken to the Washington County Hospital, where his injuries were dressed.

Shipyard Blown up by Foreign Spies.

An explosion at night is one of the thrilling and artistically effective incidents of "The Message of the Mouse," the Greater Vitagraph Blue Ribbon feature which will be the attraction at the Richmond Theatre tonight.

The play, which deals with an after-the-war conspiracy to bankrupt the United States that stricken Europe may be restored, carries a strong patriotic appeal. As part of the conspiracy all the American shipyards are to be blown up to prevent the United States from becoming mistress of the seas. In the picture one of these shipyards is actually destroyed by dynamite and the scene is said to be one of the most realistic ever put on the screen.

The picture was produced under the personal direction of Commodore J. Stuart Blackton, who staged the battle scenes in "The Battle Cry of Peace" and that other great patriotic spectacle, "Womanhood." The picture was taken at night and the explosion is graphically reproduced.

COLD WAVE ON THE WAY

Recent Warm Weather and Rains to Be Followed by Decided Drop in Temperature.

Heavy rains and hail, accompanied by thunder and lightning, visited this city and vicinity last Saturday night. The storm took a northeasterly course and struck Baltimore and other places in Maryland, where high winds were also in evidence. About a dozen houses in Baltimore were more or less damaged by the elements, and in some parts of the Monumental City people ran from their homes in terror and but partly dressed.

The weather was warm hereabouts last night and rain fell at intervals until daybreak. Showers fell again during the morning, but the wind had changed from the south to the northwest and cooler conditions followed. The Weather Bureau says much colder weather may be looked for tonight and tomorrow.

The first real cold wave of the season made its appearance yesterday in the Rocky Mountain district, with a minimum temperature of twelve degrees below zero in Northern Wyoming, and the lowest October temperature on record at Denver and Pueblo, Colorado, and Pocatello, Idaho.

Cold wave warnings were issued by the Weather Bureau for southeast Iowa, Illinois except Chicago; eastern Missouri and Little Rock, and the interior of eastern Texas.

Warning of a decided drop in temperature to about freezing or below in some places, was given for the Ohio Valley, western Tennessee, northern Mississippi and northern Alabama. The cold will overspread the East Gulf states, Tennessee, Georgia and northern Florida and the Atlantic coast districts this afternoon or night.

All records for cold weather in October were broken in eastern Colorado yesterday, while in the Panhandle section of Texas records were equalled. At Yellowstone National Park the termometer showed six degrees below zero, which also is a record.

FRENCH TEACHERS AT CAMP.

Detail Direct From Trenches Will Instruct Drafted Men.

Petersburg, Va., Oct. 30.—Capt. Jerome L. F. Tonja, of the Four Hundred and Seventieth French Infantry Division; Lieut. Emile Scholloesing, of the Field Artillery; Second Lieut. Claude D. Domezan, of the First French Infantry; Sergt. Jene Petetan and Sergt. Ypres M. Evans, who have came direct to Camp Lee from the trenches in Northern France to instruct the Eightieth Division in trench warfare, spent yesterday looking over the grounds of the camp and today will begin giving lessons to the men at the cantonment.

Colored drafted men from Virginia for the National Army began pouring into Camp Lee early yesterday forenoon. The first to arrive numbered 858 from Norfolk city and county. These were followed by 87 from Amherst and Nelson counties. Last night there arrived 74 men from Caroline and 10 from Stafford counties.

The latter were brought to the camp from Petersburg in two large army motortrucks. Before leaving Petersburg for Camp Lee the "draftees" were addressed by Major T. D. Craghill, of Bowling Green, a member of the draft board of Caroline county, who had the men in charge. Major Craighill, of the Grand Camp of Confederate Veterans of Virginia, clad in his Confederate uniform, told the negroes to be respectful to their officers and to discharge faithfully every duty required of them.

DISPOSITION OF SPIES.

During the past three years, or ever since Germany launched a movement to enslave the world, the United States has been vexed by the high-handed acts of Teuton spies. It would require the dimensions of a large book to go into the details of the many plots which have been unearthed in our country, and many think the time has come when drastic action should be taken—that is, instead of fines and imprisonment where clear cases have been proven, that the disturbers of our nation should meet the fate ever allotted to spies. Their fate might prove a deterrent to others.

Germany soon disposes of such characters when found in her realms. The word reprisal has never been popular in allied countries, but, as a matter of self- protection, should we show mercy to vicious men who would not hesitate to act the part of Guy Fawkes and blow up the Capitol should they have the opportunity?

The New York Tribune, in this connection recently said that the news that spies or traitors in New York Navy Yard so damaged two of the German liners converted into American transports that they had to put back from sea when outward bound need not surprise any one. This neighborhood has been a fertile soil for the propagation of treachery. Among a limited, yet sufficient, portion of Americans and near-Americans there has been preached a combination of sloppy sentimentalism and vicious subtle sedition which was fit to turn the heads of any one weak enough and patient enough to listen.

Whether those now guilty were spies or traitors may be left to our competent Secret Service to determine. In all probability, both spies and traitors contributed to the end. It is the common method of the skillful spy to mould to his needs those who have sedition in their hearts. Such was the labor of Major Andre at West Point, for the famous example in our history. It will be astonishing if the same combination of spy and turncoat is not revealed here.

For both cases there can be but one penalty. Spy and traitor must alike be shot. There are different degrees of guilt in spying and in treason. There can be no question of the extreme guilt here. We are sending brave and beloved lives overseas. The perils of the sea itself are great. The perils of warfare in France will be greater. To add to these inescapable risks the machinations of spies and traitors operating here at home are unthinkable. No measures can be too stringent to protect our men from these threats; no punishment can be too severe to deter their execution.

OBSTACLE TO PEACE.

According to German Foreign Minister von Kuehlmann, there is no issue prevailing outside that of Alsace-Lorraine regarding which a complete understanding between the warring nations is impossible. As the Richmond Journal says, we believe that to be true. The Balkan situation can be left to arbitration by The Hague tribunal, together with the Trentino question, the adjustment of Poland, and Russia's access to the Dardanelles, but Alsace-Lorraine must be as definitely settled by the entente allies as the evacuation of Belgium and northern France, and indemnity for a complete rehabilitation of the ruined cities before any thought of a cessation of hostilities can be entertained. France will probably be willing to forego compensation for the destruction wrought in her invaded territory if Alsace-Lorraine is conceded her, but there can be no compromise in regard to Belgium, if the war continues for five years.

If it is true that the resignation of Chancellor Michaelis is accepted and his successor, probably, von Buelow, is announced, it may mean that the time is rapidly approaching when the German government will be ready to announce its willingness to negotiate for peace on the lines known to be favored by Great Britain, France and America. Russia is hardly a factor, and Italy will have to yield to arbitration for a settlement of her claims. Michaelis has been a stopgap, merely, in the progress toward peace. He was at no time regarded as a fit medium to conduct Germany's case in the peace settlement.

AMERICA PROMISED LAND.

A writer in the New Republic says that among soldiers who returned to Europe from this country to participate in the war "the desire to go back to America is so intense as to be almost painful. I think that many of the Italians, genuinely homesick for the 'States,' have a deeper feeling for the East Side ragtime than for the martial music of Italy." Among the classes who have not seen America, who know of it only as "the promised land," an even keener anxiety to try a hazard of new fortunes in the world to the West prevails. In all the southeast hinterland of Europe—in Greece, Albania, Austria-Hungary, Serbia, Bohemia, and Lithuania—the heart of the plain people leaps when the name of America is mentioned.

As the Washington Herald says, we cannot blame them. If Americans had been living in a channel-house for three years, if they had seen the pick of their manhood destroyed, their cities laid low, and their national stock of vitality ebbing to the point of exhaustion, they might cast envious eyes towards Australia, or New Zealand, or some South Sea island far from the withering touch of the angel of war. Men and women with broken hearts and broken lives do not worry much over their formal obligations to their native land. And the sorrowing peoples of Europe will yearn to go where more wholesome lives await them, even if they have to leave forever the lands of their fathers.

ICE CREAM IN PERIL.

In these days of food conservation and meatless and wheatless days it is suggested that the price of butter and milk might be lowered by abstinence from ice cream. We know that this hint will not meet with ready adoption, especially by the younger element, who naturally enjoy exhilarating conversations while discussing this popular concoction, but listen!

The Christian Science Monitor says the manufacture of so much ice cream is one reason why butter is so high. Look at the growth of the soda fountain business the last few years. To supply this enormous demand, ice cream factories are springing up everywhere, frequently in the creameries themselves, and much butter fat that used to go into the butter churn is now going into the ice cream mixer, and, what is more, it is the highest grade of the product that is being used in this way. The great increase in the consumption of whole milk in towns and cities is another cause for the climb in butter prices. Add to this increased use of the whole milk and to the expansion of the ice cream business the enormous demand both abroad and at home, which the war has made for condensed milk and butter, and it is not necessary to score either the farmers or the cold storage men to account for butter being so high. If it were not that butter substitutes have come into such general use, the price of butter would be far higher than it is now.

KILLED BY BOY BURGLARS.

Three Youths Attempt Melodramatic Robbery in Brooklyn.

New York, Oct. 30.—Two persons are dead and two others are not likely to recover as the result of three youths attempting a lurid, melodramatic burglary in Brooklyn yesterday. The dead are: Samuel Regensburg, who first opposed the burglars, and Hugh Davis, leader of the burglars. He was shot by a policeman while escaping through an elevator shaft.

Those wounded, who may die, are Harry Regensburg and his wife, Jennie.

The three alleged burglars were Hugh Davis, his brother, Leon, also in his teens, and Paul Chapman. Leon Davis lives in Providence, R. I. He and Chapman are under arrest. From them the police claim to have learned the circumstances of the burglarizing of the Regensburg home.

Leon Davis, who is married, contracted debts of $400. He visited his brother in Brooklyn to consult as to a means of payment. They met Chapman and the three, it is alleged, plotted a midnight raid on the Regensburg apartment. Hugh Davis said he was familiar with the apartment, having lived in the house for years. They were armed with two automatic revolvers, a blackjack, a jimmy and an atomizer full of chloroform.

According to Chapman's alleged confession, Hugh upon entering the house discovered a man and woman asleep. He sprayed the chloroform in the man's face, but the latter sprang up and went at him.

"Hugh hit him with something," said Chapman, according to the police. "I climbed in and a man came running out of another room and the shooting began. I didn't shoot. It must have been Hugh. "He then related how they tried to escape. He and Leon succeeded, but Hugh was shot.

GERMANY'S AIMS.

Kaiser Hopes to End the Struggle in One Colossal Stroke.

The Austro-German blow against Italy is autocracy's most tremendous and most crushing effort to win the war is one colossal stroke.

This was the direct assertion in official cables from Rome received here yesterday. The battle, it is said, is one of the greatest of the greatest world's war. In concentrated fury of attack it outrivals the Dunajec, Verdun and the Somme.

The two great powers of the Central Alliance—Germany and Austria—have been preparing for months for this one tremendous stroke. Undreamed of supplies of munitions and unsuspected numbers of men were concentrated for what the Teutonic autocracies hope will be the decisive action of the war.

To witness hoped-for fulfillment, both Teutonic emperors are at the battle front—Emperor William, to inspire his jaded troops, and Emperor Charles, in supreme command of his Austro-Hungarian armies. On the other side of the front a third ruler, King Emmanuel, of Italy, is exhorting his men to supreme sacrifices.

Thousands of Italian soldiers are accepting certain death in an effort to stem the Austro-German rush long enough for Italy's reserve armies to come up and take over the Tagliamento line in hopes of breaking the onslaught with their river defenses.

Every resource at German's and Austria's command has been employed in this tremendous stroke. In addition, Bulgaria and Turkey are represented by armies at what the Teutonic Emperors apparently hoped would be a decisive field of battle.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

Senator Martin and Swanson and Congressman Flood will participate in the state campaign in Virginia this week making a number of speeches. Senator Martin will speak at Salem Thursday and at Staunton Friday. Congressman Flood will also speak at Staunton from the same platform as Senator Martin November 2. Senator Martin will in all likelihood make several more speeches the Saturday and Monday before election, but the dates have not yet been arranged.

Climbing to the top of their steel cages from which place they made an opening in the concrete ceiling overhead, with an ordinary case knife and a small piece of iron, Charles Clark, New York, Frank Dinges, Shenandoah county and Walter Lee Taylor, escaped from the Luray jail at a late hour Sunday. William Ford and Calvin Seekford, Page county, short term prisoners, refused to accompany the escaping trio and gave the alarm after the men had fled. It is believed that Clark and Dinges at least have gone to the wilds of the Massanutten mountain, where Dinges is well acquainted.

Because the bride-to-be was not 21 years old, Joseph Manning Kingsbury, of Boyds, Md., clerk in the Government Printing Office, Washington, and Miss Maude L. Wagner, of Washington were denied a marriage license when they arrived in Richmond yesterday afternoon from Washington. They brought a letter of introduction to the Rev. Father Felix Kaup, but he was unable to help them. As the Virginia law requires consent of the girl's parents in cases in which she is under 21 years, it was suggested they tarry in Richmond until a properly certified permit could be obtained from Washington. Kingsbury, and the girl left saying that they might journey on to North Carolina where, they were informed, the age limit is 18.

That the Atlantic Coast Line is not inclined to yield to the demand of the striking clerks for recognition of the union is indicated in a report received in Richmond yesterday from Wilmington, N. C. This relates that a meeting was held in Wilmington, Saturday night. Speakers declared that the railroad company asked the men to be loyal to the company and pledged the company to stand by the men who refused to walk out. The speakers were cheered. At the close of the meeting the men took a vote on the strike proposition and sentiment was overwhelmingly in favor of remaining at work.

WIFE DISARMS HUSBAND.

Takes Revolver Away Which He Had Drawn on Her.

Cumberland, Md., Oct. 30.—Landon E. Heskett, who comes from a prominent family, was sentenced at Piedmont yesterday to six months in jail and fined $100 for carrying a concealed weapon following an alleged attack on his wife, Lucile B. Heskett. They were married in Washington 14 years ago and have a son, James.

Mr. and Mrs. Heskett separated when the husband is alleged to have thrown a lighted match in the bed with the intention of setting fire to the house.

Mrs. Heskett has been visiting her father, Justice J. Forsythe Harrison, former postmaster of Piedmont. Saturday night Heskett is alleged to have knocked on the door of the Harrison home. Ordered away by Mrs. Heskett, he is alleged to have presented a cocked revolver, saying "We will both die together."

Mrs. Heskett grappled with her husband and succeeded in wresting the weapon from him. Her arm was severely cut in the struggle.

Justice Harrison says a charge of murderous assault will be preferred at January court.

PASTOR ACCUSED OF MURDER.

Doctor Killed and Himself Wounded in Mysterious Shooting.

Russellville, Ala., Oct. 30.—Through counsel, the Rev. J. T. Terry, former pastor of a Methodist church here, waived preliminary hearing yesterday on a charge of murder in connection with the death recently of Dr. Thomas Hughes, of this town. The defendant, who was unable to appear in court because of wounds received when the doctor was killed, was bound over for the action of the grand jury, which meets November 4.

Mystery has surrounded the killing. The preacher and doctor, supposedly friends, left here together in a buggy and later were found on the road badly wounded. The doctor had been shot in the face with a shotgun and the preacher had been wounded by revolver bullets.

London, Oct. 30.—The steamer on which were United States Senators John D. Kendrick, of Wyoming, and William S. Kenyon, of Iowa, and Representatives John J. Rogers, of Massachusetts, and James S. Parker, of New York, was attacked by a German submarine off the coast of Wales on Saturday.

The gunners on the steamer opened fire immediately, and the submarine submerged before having time to launch a torpedo.

Notice.

It is with regret that we, the Alexandria Amusement Company, must announce that owing to the Federal War Tax act which becomes operative November 1, we are compelled to make a readjustment of our admission charge at the Richmond and Surprise Theatres in this city; under the provision of that law there is levied a tax of one cent on each ten cents or fraction thereof, and two cents in excess of ten cents to and including twenty cents paid for admission, and this tax is to be paid by the person purchasing the ticket.

Under the present Federal Tax Law we are required to pay a seating capacity tax of one hundred dollars for the Richmond and fifty dollars for the Surprise theatre. In addition to this there is a tax levied of one fourth of a cent on unfinished and one cent a foot on finished films. At the Richmond theatre alone we show as much as 6,000 to 10,000 feet a day; it is readily seen that the proportion of the Federal Tax demanded of us becomes a considerable item.

We appreciate the fact that the Federal Government is obliged to have funds to carry on the present war, and its source of income is by revenue and special levied taxes, and we are willing to contribute our share. We therefore assume all special taxes, with the exception of the tax on admission, which Uncle Sam asks the public to pay.

We have always endeavored to merit the patronage we have enjoyed by giving at all times the best attractions, clean and wholesome. We will continue to do so and have booked many feature films for the near future. Where the cost of these special features to us necessitates an increased admission; notice thereof will be given in our usual advertising mediums, and the difference in our admission charge will be such only as is necessary to permit our booking the attractions.

ship we may sink to the level of the Republic of Liberia. It is the hope of our democratic government. There is one thing we must stand for in our public school system and that is efficiency. It must not fall into the slough of politics or indifference. We must put sufficient money behind the system so that we may not be ashamed of it in our city—and we must have, not forty per cent but One Hundred Per Cent Normal Trained Teachers. The public school rests upon the heart of patriotism, and you do well to insist that the Bible be read there. The reading of it never injured the truth but rather promoted it. You know that it cannot be called sectarian. 3. The Order Stands for Religious Liberty.

The greatest blow for religious liberty was struck when Martin Luther nailed his ninety-five theses on the door of the village Cathedral—it was a blow that will finally rend asunder the union of church and state, that Mongrel alliance of the centuries. The day must pass when Men's Consciences may be bound with any religious tenet unless that tenet has behind it a "thus saith the Lord." It was the intolerance of Purtanism that sent Roger Williams an exile among the Indians. The day must never come again when the state may be used as the tool for Religious Persecution, as it was in Virginia just before the Revolution. The church must recognize that the State Has a God-given, Independent Position and must not be used as a tool for the building up of any ecclesiastical system, with Human Liberties in Pawn. You made a successful fight against sectarian appropriations among the Indians. The gospel is offered as a free gift and woe be the day when, as in the days of Charlemagne, men shall be forced to pass under the religious yoke. You have stood against any religious system that would deny a man Liberty of Conscience—the martyr fires of past history ascend to heaven as a protest to God, with you. The only safeguard of religious liberty is an open Bible, for no religious yoke was ever placed on human necks where the teachings of the Book were properly disseminated. Let no Books About the Bible be substituted and Beware of Any Human Authority that is Placed on an Equal Footing with God's Revelation. Christ is obscured where the Book is hidden from the plain people—Martin Luther only discovered the plan of Salvation by Faith, in the Study of the Word—his other studies had not discovered the way.

In Conclusion, let me say that we are engaged in a great contest for Human Liberty. We are fighting for Civil Liberty because men in Germany have been making designs against it for years. Let us not forget that the world may yet have Another Contest for Religious Liberty—there are men today making designs against your right to think for yourself—against your right to worship God according to the dictates of your own consciences." A free state, a free church and a free man is to be our slogan. "If the Son therefore shall make you free ye shall be free indeed."

"My country 'tis of thee, sweet land of liberty,
Of thee I sing,
Land where my fathers died, land of the Pilgrim's pride—From every mountain side
Let freedom ring."

FLOGS PACIFIST PASTOR.

H. S. Bigelow Kidnapped, Stripped and Beaten.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 30.—Stripped of his clothing and beaten unmercifully, Herbert S. Bigelow, pacifist leader and pastor of the Peoples' Church here, was found at Florence, Ky., yesterday. He had been kidnapped by a band of men in twenty-one automobiles, who turned him loose after dipping his head in crude petroleum.

Bigelow was thrashed with a "black-snake" whip by men dressed in long, white robes resembling those described as being worn by the renowned Ku Klux Klan. His condition is serious.

Bigelow was President of the recent Ohio Constitutional Convention. He was kidnapped Sunday evening as he was about to enter a hall to address a meeting of Socialists. He had received vague threats recently, but refused to heed them. There were rumors that a secret organization had been formed in Kentucky to "teach a lesson to pacifists." Yesterday Bigelow's automobile was followed about Cincinatti by another machine.

Bigelow was able to tell of his experience. He had entered a physician's office in Florence, at 1:30 a. m. and remained there till morning. His back and legs were lacerated, and a portion of his hair had been cut off.

HUNS AND ITALIANS BATTLE.

Cadorna's Troops to Make Stand on Tagleamento River Line.

London, Oct. 30.—With death defying valor, that has caused the Rome War Office promptly to recall its charges of "cowardice," the Italian armies east of the Isonzo, now fighting on Italian soil, are throwing themselves into the teeth of Mackensen's monstrous steam roller.

They have succeeded in slowing up the Teuton sweep through the passes into the Venetian plains. But though its "break-through" momentum seems spent, and its speed has slackened, the Teuton machine rolls on relentlessly. Its center has reached the gates of Udine, where up to a few days ago Cadorna had his chief headquarters.

Every dispatch from Rome, official and unofficial, concedes that the Italians are now fighting a delaying battle, that they must keep on retiring until they reach the line of the Tagliamento River, twenty miles from Udine.

On that line Italy, with every available man and gun and every ounce of energy will make her supreme stand. A second battle of the Marne is looked for. Upon its outcome rests the fate of Italy. In many quarters the belief prevails that it will decide the war.

U. S. SOLDIER KILLS GERMAN.

Hun Refuses to Halt When He Stumbles Into Patrol.

American Field Headquarters in France, Oct. 30.—The first German prisoner to be captured by the Americans was taken Saturday night, when a Teuton soldier stumbled into an American patrol while carrying messages. He refused to halt and was shot. He died yesterday morning in a field hospital. His captors are two Polish-Americans, one from Chicago and the other from Milwaukee.

NEW REVELATION TRIAL.

Testimony Heard Against Alleged Slayer of Mrs. Maude A. King.

Concord, N. C., Oct. 30.—While the grand jury was examining witnesses for the State against Gaston B. Means yesterday on the charge that he murdered Mrs. Maude A. King, the wealthy widow, an entirely new revelation was made through the arrival of James I, Ennis, a Chicago handwriting expert.

Mr. Ennis is to be used, it was stated, last night, to support the claim that the second will of the late James C. King, from whom Mrs. King inherited a large fortune, was a forgery. State Solicitor Hayden Clement, who expects an indictment tomorrow, is planning to strengthen the circumstantial evidence he is to present against Means by an effort to prove the accused man had a distinct interest in getting rid of the widow. In this effort the second will of James C. King is expected to play a leading part.

The State will contend the second will was forged, in order to give Means further control of the widow's property. It was intimated last night that a direct charge of forging the will is to be made against the prisoner.

Many other documents have to be offered in evidence, and a number of Chicago men are to testify to support the State's contention that Means, acting as Mrs. King's confidential adviser and executive friend, aided in dissipating her fortune. The fact that he alone was near Mrs. King when she was shot, and the State's claim that it was his intent to have her out of the way to avoid an accounting of the money he had handled, will be strongly urged by solicitor Clements, first, for the indictment of Means, and, if a true bill is found, at his trial later.

ALLEGED FRATRICIDE.

Doctor Suspected of Killing His Brother in Goochland County.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 30.—Charged with a revolting murder, in which his brother, Judge A. P. Chamberlain, was the victim, Dr. A. W. Chamberlain is in the Henrico county jail, to which he was removed from Goochland late Sunday night following threats of lynching by infuriated neighbors.

The body was found Sunday afternoon, following a three-day search. It had been atrociously mutilated. The torso was found deeply buried behind a building used as a wine cellar on the doctor's premises. The head and forearms, the legs and other parts of the body were buried under fenceposts in the back yard. The stomach is missing.

Judge Chamberlain was missed last Tuesday. By Thursday, neighbors grew suspicious, and demanded the arrest of the doctor. They also began a search for the judge. Thursday afternoon Dr. Chamberlain was arrested and placed in the Goochland jail. He manifested no uneasiness at that time, explaining that his brother had gone to Cheyenne, Wyo., to see his girl. After the body was found, feeling against him became so intense that it was thought best to bring the doctor to Richmond.

The Chamberlains came to Goochland county about three years ago from Iowa. They bought a large farm and lived peacefully together until last May, when for some unknown reason they disagreed and decided to divide the property, Judge Chamberlain moved to a little house two miles away and lived alone. Final settlement for the property was not made. Arbitrators were called in and decided that the doctor should pay the judge $1,800. The judge finally was compelled to resort to law to collect $1,200 of this amount, it is said.

Monday night, according to the doctor's own story, Judge Chamberlain came to his home to collect and was paid, the doctor being given a receipt, which he now holds. It was after paying this sum that the doctor ,it is charged, killed and robbed his brother.

Dr. Chamberlain maintains that he is innocent. He says that when he paid his brother the shades in his home were up and that it would have been easy for prowlers to see the money. He states that he believes his brother was waylaid and killed by robbers after he left his house.

The slain man was about 60 years' old, and a bachelor. He never practiced law or held office in Virginia, but had been for many years a prominent lawyer in Des Moines. It is said that he was superior court judge in Iowa for a number of years.

THOS. F. RYAN WEDS.

Financier's Second Wife a New York Woman.

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 30.—Thomas F. Ryan and Mrs. Cornelius Cuyler of New York were married here yesterday in the Winter Chapel of the Catholic Church of the Holy Comforter by the Rev. Thomas A. Rankin. Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia, and Mrs. Alderman were witnesses.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 30.—The utmost secrecy surrounded the marriage of Thomas Fortune Ryan and Mrs. Cornelius Cuyler, which took place in Charlottesville yesterday. Neither Dr. Alderman, of the University of Virginia, nor the Rev. Thomas A. Rankin, who performed the ceremony, would make any statement further than to admit that the marriage had taken place.

From other sources it was learned that Mr. Ryan and Mrs. Cuyler drove to Charlottesville by automobile yesterday morning from Oak Ridge, the bridegroom's country estate in Nelson county. They are said to have driven directly to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Alderman, whom they asked to accompanyy them to the chapel. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Ryan drove away in their car, and are believed to have returned to Oak Ridge.

The financier's first wife died at midnight, October 17, at her country home at Suffern, N. Y., after being taken suddenly ill at noon on that day.

Mrs. Cuyler is the widow of C. C. Cuyler, who was a classmate and a close friend of President Wilson. She is the sister of Delancey Nicoll, the well-known New York lawyer.

Mr. Ryan is 67 years old. His wealth is estimated at between $75,000,000 and $100,000,000. He had known Mrs. Cuyler for many years. She had been married twice before. Her first husband was James Brown Lord, the New York architect. She had one child by her first husband—J. Couper Lord, who married a daughter of Henry G. Trevor. Her second husband was killed in an automobile accident in France eight years ago.

YOUR DUTY TO YOUR COUNTRY.

Every Housekeeper Can Help Save Food if They Could Not Buy Bonds.

The food conservation campaign is following close on the heels of the Liberty Loan week. While every one was not able to buy a bond because of their finances, there should be no excuse whatever offered for not signing the pledge card to stop all waste of food, to help conserve the staple products our government is asking us to save, that we may be able to send the strengthening and necessary products to our own soldiers and those of our allies to win this war.

The ladies of Alexandria are coming nobly to the front as volunteers, giving their time and energy to getting these cards in every household. It is a very simple matter, and should need no higher education to understand just what is asked of each household by the government, as their loyal bit in the conserving of food.

Many people argue that the high cost of living makes this campaign needless, because this factor alone has made waste impracticable, and put some of the staples out of the reach of a great many people, except as an absolute necessity. This may be true, and doubtless is. Very well, then, this should render the signing of the card a very easy matter. It is not ours "to question why." Simply do as we are requested to do. If the experts who have been given the handling and directing of this campaign have found that it will save millions of tons of food yearly by getting these reminders of our pledge in our homes, then it is unquestionably the duty of every loyal housewife, every cook, every one who has the handling of foodstuffs in the home, to gladly sign the card that signifies your loyal support to a movement that our government knows to be imperative to thwart a famine. You are either for or against America. You cannot be on the fence in this, the greatest crisis that has ever faced her peace and freedom. IF YOU ARE FOR AMERICA, SIGN THE CARD THAT ONE OF THE LOYAL WORKERS WILL BRING TO YOUR DOOR. Get your window card from her. Hang it in a conspicious place in your home, that everyone that passes or comes in may know just how you stand in this great world issue.

NEW U. S. DRAFT.

Plan Affecting 9,000,000 Men Has Been Approved.

A complete outline of the new draft classification, which affects approximately 9,000,000 men, was given yesterday by Provost Marshal Gen. Crowder.

The plan has been approved by the President. The details are now being worked out by a special corps of experts and probably will be announced in entirety before the end of the week. Meanwhile, the official announcement that the registered men were to be divided into five classes, each subject to later liability to call, has created some confusion in the minds of the public and it was to clear away doubtful and mistaken impressions that Gen. Crowder yesterday gave a preliminary explanation of the plan.

One of the most important points of this is that the approximately 1,800,000 men now holding exemption certificates will be among those to be classified, and under the reclassification will again have to undergo examination—not physical examination, but will have to answer questions to determine the class in which they belong.

These men, it is stated, are still subject to military service, unless physically disqualified or non-citizens, the exemption certificates they hold merely exempting them from the present draft. As Gen. Crowder has carefully explained, the new system is not retroactive, that is, it will not in any way affect the men selected for military service,—the men now in mobilization camps or being made ready for mobilization. But it does affect those examined, but not selected in the present draft.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Henry S. Woodward, aged 29, belonging to a wealthy and socially prominent family of Providence, R. I., committed suicide yesterday by jumping from a window of the Rennert Hotel in Baltimore. The coroner's certificate declared that he was insane at the time. Woodward, accompanied by his mother and a physician, was on his way to Florida for his health. The doctor said that he was a cousin by marriage of United States Senator Oscar Underwood, of Alabama, and that his family had large business interests at Birmingham, in that State.

Judge Landis in the United States district court in Chicago yesterday imposed prison sentences and fines on the four men recently convicted of conspiring to foment rebellion in India. Gustav H. Jacobsen, leader of the conspiracy; Albert Wehde and George Paul Boehme were sentenced to two years' imprisonment and fined $10,000 each. They are Germans. Heramba Lal Cupta, a Hindu, was sentenced to eighteen months in prison and fined $200. The sentences were pronounced after motions for a new trial had been denied.

Mrs. Minerva Conner, 62, of Cincinnati, was shot and killed while asleep at 8 o'clock Sunday morning by her daughter Edith, 40, an artist, but the tragedy was not discovered until yesterday, when Miss Conner called at the police headquarters and told her story. The daughter, fearing her mother would become mentally ill, told the police she had shot her to prevent her suffering. Miss Conner will be examined as to her own mental condition.

The German landing force which recently disembarked on Werder Peninsula has departed, the Russian war office announces. Before leaving they burned Werder Manor and gathered great stores of provisions which they took with them. A new note of alarm was sounded by the officers of the Petrograd garrison who adopted a resolution saying they could no longer vouch for their troops. The resolution asserts the army's "irresponsibility is complete, in the face of the country's ruin."

Little Emmet Green, 6 years old, of Syracuse, N. Y., found $1,010 in three rolls and before he had reported his find to his parents he sold two, one containing $1,000 and the other $1,010 for two cents a roll. The purchases were made by a man, who the boy said he found sitting on a bench in a park. The money belonged to Mrs. Mary Fusaro and her brother, the savings of four years.

Albert Walden, 29, a prominent farmer, living near Bloomington, Ind., yesterday afternoon killed his wife's brother and then shot and killed himself with a shotgun. It is said Walden became enraged at his wife who had sued him for a divorce and refused to return to his home.

Reports turned in by girl messengers who have been put into service by the Postal Telegraph Company in Richmond, are to the effect that the new enterprise of having girl as well as boy messengers was received with the utmost grace by the public. Everywhere the girls went they found a pleasant reception.

Relatives in Harrisonburg have been notified of the death in Maquoketa, Iowa, of W. P. (Uncle Bill) Dunlap, whose death occurred after an illness of several months. Mr. Dunlap was a native of Rockingham county, and was 76 years old. The first iron safe in Harrisonburg was brought there from Winchester by "Uncle Bill" in 1854.

GERMANS DEFY OFFICERS.

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 30.—When a North Dakota troop train passed the United States immigrant station at Hot Springs, near here, recently, the soldiers on their way to the front yelled at a group of interned Germans:

"We're going to get your Kaiser and throw him in with you."

To this the Germans shouted back this surprising reply:

"That's all right. We don't like him any more than you do."

Although this is only an incident, it is significant of the great change that has recently come over 700 of the crews of the German merchant ships that have been seized by the United States government, who, with 500 officers of those ships, are interned at the station.

The men have revolted against the authority of the captain, mates, engineers and petty officers who formerly commanded them. They refuse to obey them and deride the officers furious but futile threats against them.

The bitter feeling existing between the two classes has become so marked that the United States officials have been compelled to recognize it, and now officers and ordinary seamen have separate quarters and grounds. Recently fifty ship officers who arrived at the camp from the East were sent on to Atlanta because there was no room for them in the officers' building, yet there was then, it is said, a vacant barrack in the men's quarters.

OFFERED MICHAELIS' PLACE.

Count Von Hertling Said to Have Asked For Time.

Amsterdam, Oct. 30.—The Zeitung am Mittag, of Berlin, says the German Chancellorship has been offered to the Bavarian Premier, Count von Hertling, who has asked for time to consider the matter.

The resignation of Chancellor Michaelis was reported by Berlin newspapers last week, but no confirmation of the report has reached this country. At the time Dr. Michaelis was made Chancellor it was said the place had been offered to Count von Hertling and that he declined it, suggesting Dr. Michaelis.

Much attention was attracted by a visit made by Count von Hertling to Vienna last April for discussion of peace prospects with Austro-Hungarian officials. After his return from Vienna the Bavarian Staats Zeitung, personal organ of the count, declared for a peace without indemnities. In an interview in an Hungarian paper, the Count was quoted as expressing the conviction that the war would end by fall.
